

Every two years, Goshen comes together for TEDxGoshen, an evening celebrating the creativity, ingenuity, and diversity of our great town. We gather to hear compelling stories from a select group of neighbors who speak on topics such as innovation, community outreach and charity, overcoming personal struggles, and celebrations of successes. Speakers come from the worlds of business, arts, advocacy, and our own high school students. What ties them all together is that they are stories worth sharing.

TEDxGoshen launched in 2019 to great community response. To date almost 1,000 people have come to a TEDxGoshen event and its stories have been viewed 40,000 times online.

This year, TEDxGoshen will be even bigger and better, presenting “TEDxGoshen, Brick by Brick” on June 8 at Goshen High School. With an expected live audience of more than 400 and live digital streaming to the world, a broad range of community members will be speaking on topics that matter to all of us:

- The power of drive - beating cancer and building success
- Engaging our community’s girls and women in STEAM careers
- Making your own luck
- Building on Goshen hometown values to take an authentic path as an adult
- The challenges and triumphs of living with disabilities

There is nothing else like TEDxGoshen, and we need your help to put together a great event. Please consider supporting TEDxGoshen 2023 with a tax-deductible donation at the following levels:
