

In 2019 our community sponsored TEDxGoshen, an evening celebrating the creativity, ingenuity, and diversity of our great town. Goshen High School alumni and students were joined by a broad range of community members to each take their turn speaking on topics such as community outreach and charity, overcoming personal struggles, and celebrations of successes to a packed in-person gathering of 350 people. The Town was buzzing about the event for weeks, and these talks have been viewed over 10,000 times on YouTube.

Planning for TEDxGoshen 2021 has continued through the pandemic, and we've assembled another great representation of our community for our speaker lineup. Speakers come from the worlds of business, advocacy, the military and our own Goshen High School. This year, in addition to a limited live audience on Saturday, June 5th we will be live-streaming throughout the world.

There is nothing else like TEDx Goshen in our Town, and we need your help to put together a great event. Please consider partnering with us by offering a promotion or discount to customers on the day of the event who show proof of attendance. We want to celebrate your business and drive customers your way! Some ideas are:

- 10% off your meal or purchase
- A free appetizer or dessert

In exchange for agreeing to a special promotion for our attendees, TEDx Goshen will advertise your business! This partnership has the potential to draw many customers to your business on June 5th. It's going to be a big night for Goshen, and we'd love to have you on board.

Please contact tedxgoshen@gmail.com, or reach out to co-organizers Eric Harris (845) 742-0150 and Jonathan Redeker (845) 264-0889.

Explore our website www.tedxgoshen.com to sign up for tickets, find the live-stream, view last year's talks, and read more about our TEDxGoshen program.